

The Abundant Community: Awakening the Power of Families and Neighborhoods (Large Print 16pt)

By John McKnight and Peter Block

ReadHowYouWant. Paperback. Condition: New. 296 pages. Dimensions: 9.9in. x 6.9in. x 0.9in. Copublished with the American Planning Association Reveals the invisible but immense impact that consumerism has had on the fabric of our families and communities. Recommends how we can create richer, more fulfilling lives and break our dependency on the consumer economy. This book is about a new possibility for us together to discover the real basis for a satisfying life. It is a life that becomes possible when we join our neighbors in creating a community that nurtures our family and makes us useful citizens. We are besieged by messages from consumer society telling us that we are insufficient, that we must purchase what we need from specialists and systems outside the community. We outsource our health care, child care, relationships, recreation, our safety, and our satisfaction. We are trained to become consumers and clients, not citizens and neighbors. McKnight and Block take a thoughtful look at how this situation came about, what maintains it, and the crippling effect it has had on our families, our communities, and our environment. Right in our neighborhood we have the capacity to address our human needs in ways that systems, which see us...
